RE: 879-CHUFO

original filed as 20-134-2

1. It appears that the dubious background of subject's entourage, his political leanings, his lack of security consciousness, and the almost total absence of popular following within Czechoslovakia hold no promise of successful exploitation of General Prohala's operational potentialities.

2. The unpopular line of Pravda and Interni as well as their editorial ventures make it inadvisable to utilize these publications.

3. Projects are currently being developed at this end which will preclude the operational use of subject's group in the foreseeable future.

4. It is suggested that you explore the feasibility of recruiting individual members from subject's following for ZECLOPE.
